

EE-402T Entrepreneurship in Asian High-Tech Industries
Spring 2010 Seminar Series

The Entrepreneurial Universe:
What East and West Can Learn from Each Other

Dr. Mok, a successful Silicon Valley scientist and serial entrepreneur, relays observations from years of teaching start-up management to executives at Chinese University of Hong Kong. After considering the question of "Why entrepreneurship?" Dr. Mok examines the amazing journeys of some highly successful entrepreneurs in Asia, which differ in some ways from those of their counterparts in Silicon Valley. In this interactive seminar, Dr. Mok also explores the ecosystem of entrepreneurship, including markets, venture capital dynamics, management styles, infrastructure and cultural factors that dominate the centuries' old ways of doing business.

- With special host and moderator, Dr. Rick Giarrusso, Founder & CEO Data Digest, Co-founder, Rotary Rocket Inc.
- Students may register for EE-402T, casual attendance welcome
